Shipping Container Transport

Due to the different container types and the different delivery methods available, it is not practical for us to list any delivery costs. We believe providing hourly rates or km rates would only lead to confusion, so prefer to give you all the initial information we can, and then discuss with you what delivery method would be best. And then provide you with an accurate quote.

10' & 20' SHIPPING CONTAINERS

Tilt tray – the most cost-effective form of empty and loaded transport. The shipping container is loaded on the truck, so that the container doors are in the correct position once delivered. The truck must reverse to the delivery point where the tray of the truck tilts to the ground and the container slides off the back. Ideal when there is good access.

Crane truck – generally limited to empty transport only. Needed when the delivery locations are in a tight spot and obstacles need to be overcome.
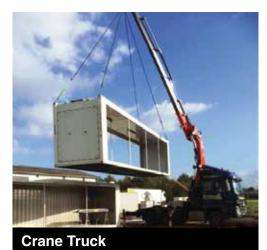

40' SHIPPING CONTAINERS

Side loader - The side loader truck delivers the 40' shipping container by picking it up from the trucks chassis at each end of the container and lowering it onto the site directly next to the truck's chassis. It is important to consider which way the container should be loaded onto the truck as it can only be unloaded from the right hand (driver's) side. Ideal when there is good access. Empty and loaded containers.

Super tilt - The truck must reverse to the delivery point where the tray of the truck tilts to the ground and the 40' shipping container slides off the back. Ideal when there is good access. Empty and loaded containers.

A member of our sales team will contact you via email during normal business hours (Mon-Fri 8am to 5pm) to discuss which transport vehicle best suites your circumstances and provide you with a quotation. We will also be able to answer any questions or concerns. If you need to speak with us sooner, please contact the office on 07 3888 3011 or email sandy@premierbox.com.au and we will call you immediately.
